EURONOVA CONFIRM ZONZINI AND COSTA FOR EUROPEAN FORMULA ABARTH

Euronova Racing is pleased to confirm it's driver line up for the European Formula Abarth Championship which gets underway next weekend at Valencia. Emanuele Zonzini, from San Marino, will be partnered with Brazilian driver Nicolas Costa.

Both drivers have had experience of racing with the Euronova team before. Costa won the Formula Abarth Winter Trophy in 2010 with Euronova when they made their series debut and Zonzini joined the team for the European finale last year, claiming his maiden podium finish.

Zonzini and Costa were both in action for Euronova last weekend at the Hungaroring in preparation for the start of the season.

Nicolas Costa: I'm very excited to be back in Formula Abarth this year and to be again racing with Euronova. We had a really good test at the weekend and I was able to be straight on the pace despite not being in a car for 5 months. I did a bit of karting in Brasil just to practice over the winter but that was it. I am really confident of being competitive this year and getting some excellent results.
